Volunteering the Parish

Volunteers are an integral part of a parish community. They help run most ministries, and their work can result in a lively and thriving Catholic church. Volunteering is a great way to meet like-minded people and contribute to the well-being of your parish.

Who should I talk to if I want to start volunteering at my parish?

Talk with your parish priest or talk to parishioners who are quite involved in the parish and ask them, “What needs are there in the parish? Is there anything that I can come in and help fill those needs?” Reach out to anybody who’s involved in ministry.

How do I figure out where to serve in my parish?

See what your skills are. What do you enjoy doing? What do you think you would like to try? What are you drawn to?

Always be discerning: What is God asking me to give today? How can I best help Him? God always gives you the means and the people and anything that you need to help out and help fulfill your God-given mission. Always keep your prayer life active and really understand: What are my gifts? What are my talents? What can I bring to the church? Ask God to help you to find the best way to do that.

What are the benefits of volunteering?

It really gives you something back. I think everybody that’s part of a parish should give in some way: time, talent, treasure, something. And you find it fulfilling as well. There are a lot of benefits that you don’t necessarily realize at the moment: people that you’ll get to know, friends you’ll get to meet, and really that strong sense of community. That’s what can get you through some very hard times.
